Remarkable Experience of F. Gagnon. Guide Up Weight Wonderfully.

"I was all run down to the very bottom," writes F. Gagnon. "I had to quit work. I was so weak. Now, thanks to 22 pounds in 23 days."

A PLUMP, STRONG, ROBUST BODY
"Before I took Sargol people used to call me 'skinny' but now my name is changed. My whole body is about. I have gained 22 pounds and am gaining yet. I look like a new man. I declared another man who finished the Sargol treatment. Would you, too, like to quickly put on 22 pounds of good, solid, 'staple' flesh, fat and muscular tissue between your skin and bones?"

Don't say it can't be done. Try it. More than half a million thin men and women have gladly made the test and that Sargol does succeed, does make thin folks fat even where all else has failed. It is best proved by the tremendous business we have done. No drastic diet, flesh cream, massage, oils or emulsions, but a simple, harmless, tonic, food, meat, Sargol. It has earned such a tremendous reputation for itself that all reliable druggists in the vicinity of Sargol will gladly sell it to you under a positive guarantee to refund your money should there be no satisfactory weight increase.

GAY SET WAS SHOCKED WHEN WITNESS TOLD

THEREFORE, THE WENMAN CHILD SUIT IN BRIDGEPORT WAS CLOSED

(By Associated Press.)

Bridgeport, Conn., July 8.—Just as the names of prominent New York men and women were about to be mentioned in connection with gay revels at Northport, Hyrd Wilson Wenman's action to obtain possession of his minor son, on the ground that the influence of the boy's mother was not suitable, was abruptly closed. It was agreed by counsel on both sides that too much of a sensation might be created by the testimony.

Mr. Wenman is a wealthy New York cotton broker, having a fine home on Shippan Point, Stamford. Mrs. Wenman began an action for divorce two years ago, alleging cruelty. He filed, but later withdrew, a denial to her charges, and she obtained the divorce and custody of the child.

Wanted to Try Out Husband.

"It is always best to live with the man you are going to marry before you marry him, and then you know what you are going to get," was the explanation offered by the then Mrs. Louise Ludew Wenman for the presence of G. Fritz Nave, a wealthy St. Louis resident, in her country home, at Northport, L. I., according to the testimony of Elizabeth McGuirk, her maid, at the hearing yesterday. "Mr. Nave apparently was satisfactory because she married him about a month ago."

Miss McGuirk had only begun to tell of the lively happenings in the Northport house when she was stopped and counsel reached an agreement, withdrawing the case from court without a decision as to who would have the custody of the child.

Cocktail For the Baby.

At one party, according to the maid, when there were present several men and women from New York "and every one was drinking. Mrs. Wenman gave a cocktail to her baby to drink."

Referring to the presence of Mr. Nave in the home of Mrs. Wenman, the maid testified that he occupied a room adjoining that of Mrs. Wenman. "I thought he was Mr. Wenman," the maid testified, "until he told me not to call him Mr. Wenman. He told me his name was Mr. Nave, and later, when I explained my mistake to Mrs. Wenman, she explained she expected to marry him."

"Mrs. Wenman always had gay friends at Northport, and there were lots of parties at which was much drinking."

The maid was asked to mention who attended these parties, and had mentioned the names of a Mr. Laroque and a Miss Grace Ellis when the testimony was halted.

Traveling Man's Experience.

In the summer of 1911 I had a very severe attack of cholera morbus. Two physicians worked over me from four a. m. to 6 p. m. without giving me any relief and then told me they did not expect me to live; that I had best telegraph for my family. Instead of doing so, I gave the hotel porter fifty cents and told him to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and take no substitute. I took a double dose according to the directions and went to sleep after the second dose. At five o'clock the next morning I was called by any order and took a train for my next stopping point, a well man but feeling rather shaky from the severity of the attack," writes H. W. Ireland, Louisville, Ky. Obtainable everywhere.

CANADA SEES CLOSE UNION OF PROTESTANTISM AND ATTACKS SIN

EXISTING CONDITIONS DEMAND IT. BARRACLOUGH TELLS C. E. SOCIETY

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, July 9.—The union of the Congregational, Methodist and Presbyterian churches in Canada was predicted in an address before the World Convention of Christian Endeavor workers here today, by the Rev. W. H. Barraclough, of St. John, N. B. "The union," he said, "is only a matter of time. Practical union has already been effected in certain college centers, and the great working departments of the various bodies have introduced a wise measure of co-operation and are harmonizing their methods and plans so as to secure greater efficiency."

"The conditions existing in Canada today demand it. Our rapid development—Canada is growing as no nation has ever grown; the battle for the closing of the barroom, the fight for clean politics; these and many other problems make it imperative that in some fashion or other, the ranks of our divided protestantism should draw closely together. The union of our denominations is inevitable. While the church courts are wrestling with the legal aspects of the question, the people are getting ready for it."

SAYS LIQUOR FIRMS PLAY ON WORKERS' FEARS

N. Y. AUTHOR ADDRESSES ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE ON ABOLITION OF BOOZE

(By Associated Press.)

Atlantic City, N. J., July 9.—"Will the Workingman lose His Job and his Personal Liberty if the Saloons are Closed?" was the subject discussed by Charles Stebbins, sociologist and author of New York, before the convention of the Anti-Saloon League of America today.

"The workingman fears being out of work more than he does going to hell," he said. "He knows that it means to walk the streets looking for a job. The liquor interests have capitalized on this fear, and by presenting a staggering array of figures which seem to prove that a calamity will follow the abolition of the liquor traffic, they have persuaded large numbers of workingmen who never enter a saloon to vote for its retention."

"But the argument that the workingman will lose his job if the liquor traffic is abolished is based upon the absurd proposition that if the liquor dealer, fails to get the money now spent for beer and whiskey nobody else will get it."

"It is assumed that the farmer who now sells his grain and grapes, his apples and cherries to the liquor interests will be compelled to destroy them; when the fact is that figures furnished by the United States government clearly indicate that the ability of the American farmer to raise enough grain to adequately supply this country is gradually decreasing."

"Neither will the railroad man suffer. Only about 2 per cent of his freight business is furnished by the liquor industry he will get much business, and as much money for the transfer of a given amount of grain, whether that grain is shipped to a brewer or a baker. As for the transportation of the finished product, as well as the raw materials which the liquor industry now furnishes, there is no doubt that other industries will benefit from the transfer of trade from liquor to some other commodity."

"More working men lose their jobs because saloons are open than would be the case were the saloons to be closed. As someone has said: 'When liquor puts a man out of a job it makes him a wealth-producing workman, instead of a wealth-destrorying working man. It is better that the saloonkeeper should lose his job and get a better one than that dozens of his patrons should lose their jobs and be unfitted for any job.'"

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

few other men who represent them are getting acads of money that should go to the municipalities in taxes and license, and a strictly regulated saloon-paying a very high license, is a better method than that we now have. Personally, I believe if there was no national tax on liquor, and if it was made free as water, the question would soon solve itself, together with strict regulation."

GAMBLING MOTORISTS WORRY THE POLICE

Oklahoma City, July 9.—How can you raid a gambling den traveling by itself 15 miles an hour, with no paraphernalia for gambling except a searchlight and the license numbers of automobiles that pass in the night? Police Chief Nichols of this city has not solved the problem yet. If you are spotted by a search, take a digit of the license number. The searchlighters probably have their eyes fixed on the license number of your car. The gambling motorists each take a digit of the license number, and the player with the highest total in a given number of machines takes in the pot.

Or—One gambler takes the first auto, whose number turns out to be 4321, "a pair," another takes the second one, 4341, "three of a kind," the third takes the third car, 4411, "four's." Automobile poker is the latest. Money changes hands rapidly. Police authorities don't know how to rid the city of this nature of gambling. It is a new stunt in Oklahoma City, being imported from the east, and is proving popular.
